

Positions Available at JoGG

Copy Editor

A volunteer copy editor is needed to help with the final editing of articles accepted for publication in the Journal of Genetic Genealogy. Good writing and editing skills are required.

Layout Editor

A volunteer layout editor is needed to help format articles for publication in JoGG. Experience with one or more leading desktop publishing software packages is required and experience with layout of scientific articles is desirable. The applicant would do the layout and formatting for all or part of each issue.

Associate Editor

A volunteer Associate Editor is needed to join three other Associate Editors on the editorial board of JoGG. Duties will involve coordinating reviews for at least one article for each issue of JoGG (two issues per year).

Responses

Please send letter of interest to the Editor at the email address on the masthead.